Dr. Steve Blumenshine, Executive Director of CSU-WATER

CSU-WATER (Water Advocacy Towards Education and Research) develops and strengthens water research and scholarship in the CSU System and throughout CA in collaboration with external partners and other water stakeholders. These efforts focus on including faculty and students throughout the 23 campus CSU system to address critical water resource issues and agricultural, urban, and environmental water allocations. More recently he was the Director of the Research & Education Division of the California Water Institute at Fresno State. Dr. Blumenshine served 20 years in the Fresno State Biology Department where he taught and operated a very active research lab with external collaborators and students. Blumenshine's International water research experience includes two U.S. Fulbright Awards, and engagement in Thailand, Germany, Israel, Switzerland, China, Australia, and Spain. His degrees are a PhD from the University of Notre Dame, MS from George Mason University, and BS at the University of Wisconsin
