

Here are the two descriptions we have for the open positions. Students can send their resume to hr@hitechhome.net, attention Jay.

App Developer

Innovative company seeking a part time app developer that would like to earn extra money on an ongoing basis by developing, testing, and certifying new apps to help prepare for market launch. Must have some level of a background or work history in developing apps for smart phone and tablet devices. Candidate needs to be creative and have a positive attitude. If interested, please send your resume, examples of previous projects, and why you feel you would be a good fit for this position. A college student is okay to apply as long that person can demonstrate the above criteria.

Product Engineer

Innovative company seeking a part time product engineer that would like to earn extra money on an ongoing basis by developing, testing, and certifying new products to help prepare for market launch. Must have some level of a product engineering background or work history. Candidate needs to be creative and have a positive attitude. If interested, please send your resume, examples of previous projects, and why you feel you would be a good fit for this position. A college student is okay to apply as long that person can demonstrate the above criteria.